ORGANIZERS

Altai State University

Altai State University (ASU) was founded by the Decree of USSR Ministries Council № 179 dated March 27, 1973 in Barnaul as an autonomous higher educational institution. At the time of the opening the university included 3 faculties with several departments.

Today the university is the largest educational institution in the South of Siberia, with about 18 thousands of undergraduate and postgraduate students trained in a variety of specialties, from executives and economists to biologists, mathematicians and chemists, highly demanded not only within the region but across the country and abroad.

Altai State University has 12 faculties, a college, more than 70 departments and several branches in the major population centers of the Altai Region. On the basis of several academic institutes of the Siberian Branch of the Russian Academy of Science and joint laboratories, specially created at the university, there are conducted joint researches on the applicable and regional topics. The university operates its own printing and publishing complex, scientific library, which has more than 1 million items.

The Program of Strategic Development and the Program of Development of Students' Associations Activities, implemented nowadays in the university, open up new growth opportunities. Significant prospect for development is the creation on the bases of Altai State University of an Asian University aimed at training of highly qualified personnel, not only for Asian countries - neighbors of the near abroad, but also for China, Mongolia, Afghanistan and India.

ORGANIZERS

National Council of Russia Youth and Children Unions

National Council of Russia Youth and Children Unions were established on January 10, 1992 on the initiative of 8 public organizations.

Establishment of the National Council of Russia Youth and Children Unions was supported by Presidential Decree №1075 dated September 16, 1992 "On urgent measures for the development of youth policy in the Russian Federation."

The National Council was registered in the Ministry of Justice of the Russian Federation on August 21, 1992. The status of the organization is nationwide. Today the National Council includes 41 all-Russian and inter-regional organizations and 32 "Round tables" (Coordination Council of youth and children organizations of the Russian Federation). Thus, the National Council is the representative body for youth and children unions of the Russian Federation, acknowledged as such within the country (by the government bodies), and abroad (by intergovernmental organizations - Council of Europe, the UN and non-governmental international organizations - the European Youth Forum, the World Youth Assembly etc.). The National Council of Russia Youth and Children Unions is a system of coordination of the activities of youth and children organizations and consultations between them.

For participation in the conference are invited: government and municipal structures working with youth, the business communities, the media, leaders of youth and student associations of the BRICS member-countries, whose scope of activity and interests are associated with the development of international youth cooperation and public diplomacy on the BRICS platform.

Program of students' associations activities' development

Program of students' associations activities' development of State Budgetary Educational Institution of Higher Professional Education “Altai State University” was developed during the joint Council of ASU students in 2012.

The two year development Programme was approved by the Ministry of Education and Science of the Russian Federation in the competitive selection of development programs of students' unions of higher educational institution. In the end of 2013 the Program was updated taking into account the university students' government necessities and again got into the list of top leaders. In December 2015 it was renewed and supported for the third time by the Ministry of Education and science of the Russian Federation.

ASU students' win in this competition gave an opportunity to enhance students' life in the university in all directions: update students' infrastructure of creativity and entertainment, acquire new sports and camping equipment, establish students' sport and health center, found a training camp on the basis of training and practice center "Krasilovo", create new creative teams. Today ASU students take an active part in the all-Russian projects in the sphere of youth policy

Student associations of the university are the traditional youth policy leaders in the region, as for the university, it serves as a platform for significant regional, national and international youth events. In the framework of the Programme on the basis of the university there were held: Asian Student Forum “Education without Borders. Altai-Asia 2012”, Summer Session “Implementation 2012” of All-Russian Student Forum, All-Russian Student Workshop-seminar “Qualitative Education - the Path to a Successful Career” (2014), International Student Festival of National Cultures of the SCO member-countries and China (2014), International Educational Forum “Altai-Asia 2012, 2014”, I Congress of CIS Young Entrepreneurs (2015), I All-Russian Competition and I National Russian Students' Associations Scientific Conference (2015), II Asian Student Forum “Kyrgyzstan-Asia 2015” and many others.

International Activity of the Altai State University

In recent years, ASU have successfully implemented a strategy of advancing the development of the university as an international scientific and educational center, focused on the cross-border Asian region. The ASU is one of the head universities of SCO University, implementing a number of network educational programs. In 2013, under the auspices of the Altai State University was established the Association of Asian Universities, which is currently a platform of educational and scientific cooperation for almost 40 universities, representing 10 Asian countries. The university signed the agreement with Rossotrudnichestvo, within which carries out a number of large-scale international projects. There is a number of scientific and educational, scientific and research centers in ASU which are aimed at studying various spheres of Asian countries' life: Asian Expert-analytical Research Center of Ethnology and International Educational Cooperation which was established together with Siberian Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences, UNESCO Department on cross-border cooperation, the only one in Russia Honorary Department of "Kazakhstan's Way named after N. Nazarbayev", the Russian-Chinese Center of Education, Culture and Academic Mobility and others.

The results of this work were supported by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, the Ministry of Education and Science of the Russian Federation, the Ministry of Regional Development of the Russian Federation, ministries of education of some Asian countries, governmental bodies of the regions of far and near abroad, which form a part of socio-geographical area of Great Altai (China, Mongolia, Kazakhstan, etc.), Administration of Altai Region, the Council of Rectors of the Great Altai in the framework of sustainable socio-economic development of the region

INFORMATION

Altai State University has all the necessary institutional and infrastructural resources to conduct major events of international and national levels. In recent years, on the basis of ASU there were carried out large-scale international educational and student forums under the brand “Altai-Asia” (2012, 2014). A major event in the development of ASU international activities became the VIII Week of Education and the V Meeting of Ministers of Education of the SCO member-countries (2014). In 2016 Altai State University will conduct the III International Educational Forum “Altai Asia”, where there will participate leading researchers, specialists and experts in the field of vocational education and educational policy of all regions of Russia and foreign countries.

Interactive platform for organization of scientific events

The project is designed to enhance young people's interest in science. The portal brings together graduate students, undergraduate students and applicants who want to perceive the wonder of our world. The portal provides information about future and past conferences, contests, forums, competitions. With the convenient web interface, you can organize your own conference, as well as gain access to the conferences of previous years, learn the latest news of the world of science. Youth research portal "Lomonosov" is an interactive online resource that brings together platforms of organization of scientific events, platforms of the social network for scientifically oriented youth and calendar of socially important and scientific events. By registering, the user gets access to all the functions of the site, opportunity to communicate with colleagues and friends, operate a blog, receive information about upcoming events, selected in accordance with his/her interests, apply for participation in various scientific events, create, edit and moderate his/her own conference, participate in the discussion of issues related to scientific events in the forum, and more.

PROGRAMME

Excursion programme “Crossroads of Worlds”

Going on tours to the Altai, you can see the various antiquities such as steles, burial mounds and rock paintings, visit the mysterious caves, see beautiful waterfalls, mountain rivers and lakes, enjoy the silence of the mountains and the birds singing, the freshest mountain air and bright starry sky, which in the Altai Mountains seems to be so close! Perhaps some of this seems incredible, but in fact all of the above is only a small fraction of what attracts tourists in the Altai.

Perhaps only in the Altai Mountains during one day you can visit steppe, taiga, admire majestic glaciers and deep gorges, visit high-mountain steppe, where there is almost no vegetation, and then plunge into the bright colours of beautiful meadows.

We invite you to an amazing journey through the Altai!
